2020 REUNION UPDATE

Charlie Charlesworth writes:

Your committee recently held a telephone conference to discuss the present Covid-19 outbreak and the possible impact on our August Reunion in Langeleben, Germany, as it recognises that most of our members who would like to attend are unsure of what to do and whether the reunion will proceed.

The result of the Committee's deliberations are as follows:

- As the reunion is just over 5 months away it was decided that time was still on our side and to wait and watch as events unfold. The Schützenfest had not as yet been cancelled and the Avalon Hotel would continue to hold our potential room reservations.
- Should the Schützengilde cancel the Schützenfest, then the decision was taken that our Reunion in Germany would also be cancelled and, depending on the progress of Covid-19, a gathering in UK be organised at a suitable time and place in the future.
- Our man in Germany, John Richardson, will continue to monitor the situation with the Schützengilde, and the Committee will review the situation again in mid-April.

I hope that this brings you up to speed as best as we can Stay Safe.
